1. Staff Meeting - I raised again the question of excessive overtime in the

I raised the question if anything had been done about putting in people or units for Incentive Awards. Nothing has. At the time we were preparing for the Christmas party, I understood that recognition of individuals at the party would be sufficient reward for some but that it would not be a substitute for more formal Agency recognition of the achievement of others. A general feeling seems to have been generated that Christmas-party recognition was sufficient in almost all cases. I suggested that this matter be given further thought and that the Chiefs should be prepared to explain to you why they had not put anybody in for Incentive Awards.

I asked the Staff to review the situation again and see whether they had girls qualified to take the GS-7 positions in the Registrar's office. We must fill one position immediately and another in June and OTR has no GS-6 girls to go into the GS-7 slots, then we must get somebody from elsewhere, a less desirable way of doing it.

[redacted] raised a question of policy, namely, whether Department of Agriculture people going abroad as attaches should be allowed to attend the Departmental Briefing, their situation actually being no different from that of any other Attaches except that the Department has its own Foreign Service. I stated that we should not keep them out if they had "a need to know."

Staff Meeting (Cont'd)

25X1 [ ] pointed out a growing interest by other agencies in taking our Area courses, particularly where we were getting speakers from these other agencies. I told him that they probably should be given quotas if they show an interest and that these quotas should be kept low. We do not want to get in a position of having a majority of students from outside the Agency, [ ]

2. We have a copy of a cable sent by C/FE from [ ] 24 February, suggesting that a training activity be used for active recruiting of trainees.

3. Draft of IAC-D-98/2 of 24 February contains the study of the problem of an IAC Glossary and recommends that IAC not undertake publication of a comprehensive coordinated glossary of intelligence terms.

4. [ ] called for DTR. Did not want to speak to [ ] Wanted to know when DTR would be back. When he learned that he was not expected back until the middle of ~~May~~ April, he said that that would be too late, he was hoping to get him to take another trip - even more important than the last one, but that it would have to take place before DTR's return. He then said he would try to call Harry Rositzke, maybe he could talk him into going.
